ORPHEUS STUDIO PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS AN UNFORGETTABLE ADAPTATION OF MARY SHELLEY'S ICONIC NOVEL

On April 20th, Frankenstein: The Metal Opera (Live) will be available for streaming and download to watch anywhere in high definition, courtesy of digital retailer VHX. The live album will also be available to purchase from the iTunes store.

With this video Orpheus Studio Productions is offering audiences worldwide an opportunity to witness their thrilling production of Frankenstein: The Metal Opera, from the best seat in the house, in their own homes. With critically-acclaimed performances from Roy Ryan as Victor Frankenstein and Duncan Drury as the Creature, this is no ordinary night at the opera.

'A hardcore harmony of horror and opera.' - * Views from the Gods

Refreshingly faithful to Mary Shelley's original novel, composer Richard Campbell's intense and dramatic score recounts the tale of a man whose diabolical ambition leads him to a life of torment and guilt, and a creature made monster by abandonment and prejudice.

'A powerful, varied and well-matched score.' - * The Public Reviews

The creative team of Richard, Carol Pestrige (Co-writer) and Alan Mandel (Director) launched a Kickstarter campaign in the summer of 2014 to raise extra funds to help realise their vision of Frankenstein: The Metal Opera on stage. The campaign was a huge success, with 111 backers raising a total of £3,053.

Thanks to the generosity of their Kickstarter backers, private investors, and many friends who donated a huge amount of time and expertise, Orpheus Studio Productions' first ever theatre production was both critically acclaimed and a sell out.

'A fully envisioned little universe of sci-fi spectacle.' - * Everything Theatre

The video was filmed during the show's run at The Space, London from 28th October until 1st of November 2014 and all money made from sales will go toward future productions of this exciting and unique piece of musical theatre.
